

PIXILATED PERFECTION

Trial and error used to be the only way a girl could determine what new lip gloss, mascara or blush would look best. But now, thanks to iPhone apps like MakeUp (by Modiface), testing out a new look is right at the fingertips of the woman on the go who wants to look her best but doesn't have a lot of time to beauty shop.

Apps like MakeUp allow users to upload a photo of themselves and virtually apply lipstick, eye shadow, gloss and other accents to their face to see what colors look best. Users can then take the results to local stores to match the look. There are hundreds of apps trying to claim a piece of the estimated $43.2 billion beauty industry. Avon, Lancome and L'Oreal Paris also have apps that allow users to try dramatic looks, such as raccoon eyes or black lipstick, or softer ones, like neutral lips and earth-tone shadows.

944 Picks Beauty Apps

- iStylish — a makeover app
- Beauty — computes the "beauty factor" of faces, $1.99
- Sally's Salon — a game that allows the player to be a salon owner, directing clients from shampoo stations to haircut chairs to the cash register
- Good Guide — an info guide that rates beauty products from 1 to 19 based on the credibility and environmental responsibility of the company

DAILY SOURCE OF C (AKA COCKTAIL)

Getting a daily dose of vitamins can sometimes be a chore, but LBS: A Burger Joint at Red Rock Resort & Casino has presented a solution with the introduction of its Adult Vitamin cocktails. A nutritious combination of Glaceau Vitamin Waters, fresh fruit juice and infused liquor, this drink puts a healthy twist on the typical fruity concoction.

In the Raspberry Apple Adult Vitamin, both vitamin C and zinc are key ingredients. Zinc is an essential trace element that assists with the proper function of a healthy immune system and in the healing of wounds. In the Power C Adult Vitamin, the C stands for vitamin C, which plays an influential role in the synthesis of collagen. All of these components are integral for the body to exert physical power and bounce back from a long day by the pool or a late night. Besides their nutritional value, Adult Vitamins are also a great value, priced at $6.50 for 17 oz., including a frosty bottle of Vitamin Water.
